It takes more than seven days to produce "Seven Days." The public, eagerly anticipating the Country Club play, will be disappointed to learn that it will not be given the latter part of the month. Rehearsals are progressing with the vim and enthusiasm that denotes a clever and interested cast, whose members will devote every evening of the coming fortnight to bettering their already good work.

The lines are exceedingly bright and amusing and there is not a dull moment in the play. The players are determined to make this the best amateur attraction Phoenix has ever known.

The complete cast announced for the first time follows:

Dallas Brown.....Alexander Baker
Tom Harbeson.....Hugh Marshall
Officer Plannigan.....Power Conway
Borcher.....Irving de B. Miller
Kin McNair.....Ruth Griffin
Anne Brown.....Mrs. Anthony Beezer
Aunt Selina.....Mrs. Horace Knowles
Footman.....Ernest Bennett
Guard.....Judge Edward Kent
Complimentary to the members of the Tucson Country Club, who are in town for the golf tournament that is scheduled for this morning, a number of delightful affairs are scheduled. The week end gayeties inaugurated by a largely attended dance at the club last evening, will be continued today. The morning on the links will be followed by a luncheon at the club home and this afternoon tea will be served to the many motorists who will undoubtedly drop in during the afternoon.

The Country Club gave a card evening on Thursday, Mrs. A. B. Nichols and William G. Hartranft making the highest scores. Gathered about the card tables were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Francis, Judge and Mrs. Richard E. Sloan, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Tweed, Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. James, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Hartranft, Mrs. William M. Seabury, Miss Eleanor Sloan and Edward Freeland.

One of the most beautifully appointed events of spring took place Friday afternoon when Mrs. H. M. Fennemore entertained with a large reception at her home, 501 East Moreland street. An unusual and most attractive color combination, pink and yellow, was used in decoration. The living room was lovely in a profusion of buttercups and daisies. The fireplace was banked with the bright blossoms and brass jardiniere and bowls everywhere held floral clusters. The dining room accentuated the yellow tone that was expressed in the basket of nasturtium that formed the centerpiece. The pergola covered in greenery was studied with pink rose buds.

Mrs. Fennemore, who wore a charming gown of yellow brocade, champagne and shadow lace over pink crepe net, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. William S. Humbert and Mrs. Lyman Bennett. Mrs. H. D. McVay and Mrs. D. T. Hill presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Louis H. Chalmers and Mrs. Lewis T. Carpenter at the tea tables. Miss Elizabeth Samuels, Miss Dorothy Slayback and Miss Gladys Kelly were in the dining room. Little Miss Betty Fennemore, the pretty daughter of the hostess, in a dainty white frock and pink sash, was at the door during the receiving hours from 3 o'clock until 6 o'clock. More than two hundred called in the afternoon.

In honor of Mrs. Walter Hintz, Mrs. Lyman Bennett gave a prettily appointed luncheon Tuesday at her home on North First avenue. The table centerpiece was a dainty basket of fragrant pink and white sweet peas, a perfect pink tulip leaves' knot ornamented the handle and gave an effective touch to the floral arrangement. Hand painted cards featured sweet peas and marked covers for eight. Auction was played in the afternoon. Mrs. Hintz making the highest score. Besides the complimented guests those who shared Mrs. Bennett's hospitality were Mrs. J. B. Hocker, Mrs. J. P. Alkire, Mrs. Charles Stauffer, Mrs. H. Clay Parker and Miss Alice Redewill.

Mrs. A. B. Nichols of 228 East Willetta street, was a card hostess on Wednesday. The living rooms held a wealth of sweet peas and marigolds arranged in tulip tied wicker baskets. The prizes were won by Mrs. A. B. Gatter and Mrs. H. J. Lee. Mrs. Nichols' guests were Mrs. James H. McCintock, Mrs. George H. Lutzgerding, Mrs. Harold C. Bennett, Mrs. Fen Hildreth, Mrs. Henry D. Ross, Mrs. Joseph Lobit, Mrs. Julian Holmes, Mrs. George H. N. Lohrs, Mrs. Edward Tish, Mrs. John Parks, Mrs. Rupert Moore, Mrs. Homer King, Mrs. A. R. Gatter, Mrs. Clay Leonard, Mrs. Fred Woolley and Mrs. H. J. Lee.

Miss Keturah Slagle gave an informal luncheon Friday at her home, 1002 North Second street. The table centerpiece was a cluster of pink and lavender of sweet peas. Covers were laid for Miss Ruth Goldberg, Miss Eleanor Hulet and Miss Ruth Benedict.

Mrs. H. B. Wilkinson presided over a charmingly arranged luncheon Tuesday at her home on North Central avenue. A quaint and pretty effect was obtained in the use of old fashioned flowers. Mrs. Wilkinson's guests were the members of the executive board of the Woman's Club of which she is president and included Mrs. D. H. Burris, Mrs. John Bennett Jr., Mrs. E. T. Gillette, Mrs. W. C. Foster, Mrs. L. E. Hewins, Mrs. Herman Perry de Muni and Miss Edith Evans.

Quite the most elaborate event of Easter week was the Knights Templar dance given at the Woman's Club on Wednesday evening. The largely attended affair was perfectly appointed, the floral features in the reception room, auditorium and card room being of more than ordinary charm. Roses and carnations with delicate ferns intermingled filled all vases and low bowls and were placed about with pleasing result. In the ball room fern ropes were festooned from the side lights from which fell a shower of greenery. The chief motif of the decorative scheme was the immense Masonic emblem in pink, white and red carnations, that was hung to advantage on the stage. When the lights were turned low and the Masonic symbol illuminated the effect was exceptionally attractive. The House Orchestra furnished a splendid dance program. The scene in the card rooms was equally as lovely as that in the auditorium and six tables enjoyed a rubber of auction. The prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. George Christy and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Pratt.

Mrs. Sling Ely was an informal luncheon hostess Wednesday at her home on North First street. A bowl of nasturtium was the table's central ornament and covers were laid for Mrs. Caroline Kibbey, Mrs. Joseph Kibbey, Mrs. S. E. Barleson, Mrs. Florence Sloan, Mrs. Joseph Sherburne Jenckes, and Mrs. Walter Kibbey of El Centro.

Mrs. M. J. Dougherty of Mesa will be a luncheon hostess of the week entertaining in honor of her mother, Mrs. Louise Severn of New York.

Mrs. Harry Carson was hostess of the Linger Longer Club Wednesday at her home, 1824 West Washington street. A prettily arranged luncheon was followed by a rubber of auction. Mrs. H. Clay Parker making the highest score. The guests of honor were Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Edwin Malcolm Hull and Mrs. Ned Creighton.

Mrs. E. W. Baum presided over an attractively arranged luncheon at the Arizona Club yesterday. Pink and white sweet peas decorated with pretty effect. Later in the afternoon Mrs. Baum entertained her guests at the Columbia. In the party were Mrs. Daniel Francis, Miss Blanche Lumbeck, Miss Mary Van Pert, Miss Florence Studley, Miss Rissie Humphrey and Miss Edith Collins.

In celebration of the birthday of her mother, Mrs. T. E. Earl, Mrs. D. D. Crobb gave a pleasant affair Friday at her home 1419 North Third street. The red color scheme employed in decoration was carried out in American Beauty roses and poppies. Progressive games were played during the afternoon. The guest list included Mrs. Earl, Mrs. E. H. Abbot, Mrs. T. E. Irvine, Mrs. G. Fred Sharpe, Mrs. Ernest Munson, Mrs. A. C. Kinsley, Mrs. D. L. Davis, Mrs. D. Crobb, Mrs. J. L. Connor, Mrs. C. H. Pratt, Mrs. J. D. Crobb, Mrs. Dan McDermott and Mrs. L. L. Harmon.

Mrs. V. E. Hanny gave a notable event of the week on Thursday afternoon when she entertained with auction at her home, 1922 North Third street. American Beauty roses and sweet peas combined in a most attractive floral adornment of the card rooms. The prizes were won by Mrs. C. C. Hutchinson, Mrs. R. A. Volk, Mrs. Asa B. Kennan and Mrs. Fen Hildreth. There were present Mrs. Daniel Francis, Mrs. Lewis T. Carpenter, Mrs. James H. McCintock, Mrs. Clark Churchill, Mrs. Clay Leonard, Mrs. Barry Goldwater, Mrs. Joseph H. Kibbey, Mrs. Earl Tuttle Haylett, Mrs. Joseph Sherburne Jenckes, Mrs. George Purdy Bolland, Mrs. Homer King, Mrs. C. H. Akers, Mrs. Randolph McElhane, Mrs. William Gordon, Mrs. Henry D. Ross, Mrs. E. W. Baum, Mrs. Asa B. Kennan, Mrs. A. R. Gatter, Mrs. H. Z. Barlow, Mrs. H. M. Fennemore, Mrs. Clarence Spellman, Mrs. C. C. Hutchinson, Mrs. Harry Kay, Mrs. E. T. Collins, Mrs. E. L. Woodward, Mrs. Fen Hildreth, Mrs. J. G. Van Leuven, Mrs. Arthur Gibbons Hulet, Mrs. William Pinney, Mrs. T. E. Irvine, Mrs. W. S. Hefflin, Mrs. Edward O'Malley, Mrs. J. H. Cole, Mrs. M. E. Morin, Mrs. R. A. Volk, Mrs. Ben Butler, Mrs. Donald McQueen, Mrs. J. H. McCandless, Mrs. Cy Byrne, Mrs. Harland Gray and Miss Kate Christy.

Mrs. G. A. Bowman entertained the Priscilla Club Wednesday afternoon at her home, 544 East Adams street. Sweet peas and geraniums were used in effective decoration. Mrs. C. W. CONSISTENCY

Mr. Business Man:

Taking fifty-three of the largest business houses of Phoenix as a fair representative average, we find by actual canvass thirty-one buy their printing away from Phoenix. Also that, as a general rule, the larger the firm, the greater the "off-fender."

Still the merchants are the backers, originators, and the ones who favor the "Trade at Home" movement.

Now, as a matter of example, suppose the same percentage of your customers purchased out of town. Wouldn't you "howl?" Sure, you would.

Catch the idea?

You aren't intentionally doing this; but you never stopped to consider. Stop and think it out.

That's the reason we are "howling," and if we "howl" long enough and loud enough, we are sure your next order will be placed with
